

Swap homes for a star-studded neighbourhood!

Ever fancied living in the same village as The Beckhams, or down the road from Harry Styles? Well, now you can, home swap style! When travel resumes, global home-swapping site Love Home Swap has a vast selection of gorgeous properties located in the star-studded neighbourhoods of the rich and famous. From luxury London pads to deserted beach abodes in Cornwall, Brits can live like an A-Lister, exploring hidden UK gems in celeb postcode hotspots.

Make Harry Styles your neighbour in North London

Last year, Harry Styles dazzled fans when he bought his third home in Hampstead, North London. This means you are now three times more likely to bump into him if you swap homes with this 400-year-old property in the village of Hampstead. Originally the home was made up of two separate cottages, but they have recently been converted and modernised to create the perfect space for a London break.

More info

Home swap near Kate Moss in the Cotswolds

English supermodel Kate Moss resides in a 10-bedroom house in the Cotswolds, which is just a five-minute drive from this cosy and contemporary cottage tucked away in the centre of Lechlade. Cotswolds-loving Kate also got married locally and can often be spotted dining in her favourite Lechlade pub, The Swan.

More info

Live like The Beckhams in London's Holland Park

When the Beckhams are in the UK, they reside in a swanky seven-bedroom London house in Holland Park, which is just minutes away from this beautiful penthouse apartment. Located in a stunning old-world building, the apartment is finished to a high spec. Make the most of the home's high-end features and a private balcony that overlooks a gorgeous garden – plus a knockout location on the doorstep of London's key sights including Portobello Road and Hyde Park.

More info

Cook up a storm like Gordon Ramsay in Cornwall

During the holiday season, world-renowned British chef Gordon Ramsay and his family travel to their gorgeous Cornish property with its own deserted beach. Now you too can live like Ramsay and stay on a private island that sits just off the North Cornish surfing town of Newquay. The only way onto the island is by a suspension footbridge. At high tide, the island is surrounded by water, while at low tide, it's surrounded by sand. You can be on the beach below in just 60 seconds – or cosy up by the fire and watch the dramatic waves.

More info

Hit up Marylebone like Madonna

Now, this charming Georgian flat may not be as big as Madonna's £10 million Georgian townhouse in London's Marylebone, but like Madonna you will have the city's wonders on your doorstep. Make the most of the theatre and museum districts, Oxford Street's shops and scenic Regents Park, before rounding off your A-List inspired day with dinner in Soho or Marylebone.

More info

Love (Home Swap) Actually in Chelsea, home of Hugh Grant

This stunning Chelsea property was completely refurbished last year by a leading architect and interior designer – some might say its style is similar to Hugh Grant's six-bedroom semi-detached home which is also located in the neighbourhood. Moments from the iconic King's Road and enjoy a bit of celeb-spotting, or venture to Notting Hill to hunt out the movie's iconic blue front door and bookshop.

More info

Enjoy the quiet life like Ricky Gervais in Buckinghamshire

Beloved English actor, comedian and creator of The Office, Ricky Gervais can often be found winding down in his riverside house in Marlow, Buckinghamshire. It's a gorgeous spot to explore, and his £2.75 million property is less than a ten-minute drive from this luxury farmhouse located in a truly idyllic countryside setting. With award-winning restaurants on the doorstep, this is the ideal home for a relaxing retreat.

More info

